Pump.fun PUMP

PUMP earns far more per dollar of value than its listed peers, but dated team and investor unlocks and a falling price mean the balance of evidence tilts lower, not strongly enough for a directional view.

Previous call: NEUTRAL on 11 Nov 2026 at $0.003641 (−3.0% since) — unchanged.

KEY POINTS

1. Fees large but slowing. Thirty-day fees of $138.45M annualise to $1.68B; the last seven days annualise to $1.27B. All-time fees are $2.41B.
   DefiLlama fees, 11 Nov 2026
2. On-chain buyback and burn. Half of platform revenue buys PUMP in the open market and burns it permanently; 176.41B PUMP has been burned for $505.18M.
   pump.fun/pump-token
3. Insiders send SOL to Kraken. Team and existing-investor wallets sent 76,111 SOL ($6.85M) to Kraken, Lookonchain reported, part of a running series of transfers.
   Lookonchain via crypto.news, 6 Nov 2026
4. Price at a 30-day low. PUMP is $0.00353227, down 31.8% over 30 days and 16.0% over seven, sitting at its 30-day low of $0.00350.
   CoinGecko, 11 Nov 2026
5. Cheaper than the peer set. PUMP trades at 1.7x annualised fees against a 5.4x peer median, and 4.8x annualised revenue against 13.1x.
   DefiLlama and CoinGecko peer read, 11 Nov 2026

WHAT IT IS

Pump.fun is a Solana memecoin launchpad. Users start a coin at no cost, trade it on a bonding curve, and pay to graduate it to PumpSwap, the platform's own exchange. The PUMP token is not needed to use the platform and carries no claim on revenue.

Price, 90 days, and the 8-week range

CoinGecko daily closes · shaded: 1σ and 2σ if 30-day volatility holds

Supply: Unlocks go to team and investors

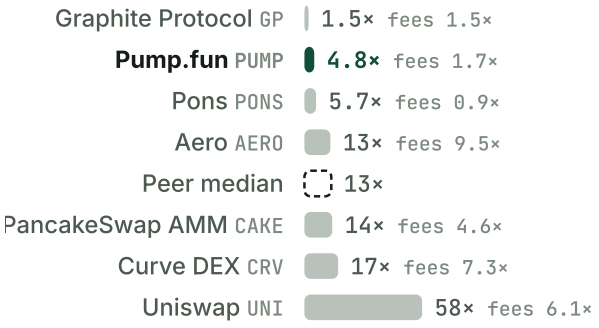

Over the next 90 days 20.625B PUMP is released to the team and existing investors, starting on 12 November 2026, equal to 4.5% of circulating supply. Two cliffs of 6.875B fall on 11 December 2026 and 11 January 2027. Only the documented schedule is counted; other inflation may exist.

Valuation: Cheap on both cash-flow measures

Revenue, not gross fees, funds the buyback, so revenue is the measure that matters here. The peer group is wide: revenue multiples run from 1.5x (Graphite Protocol) to 57.6x (Uniswap), and the set mixes launchpads and DEXs, each measured on its whole business.

FDV ÷ annualised revenue (fees beside)

DefiLlama 30d × 365/30 · CoinGecko FDV · dashed: peer median

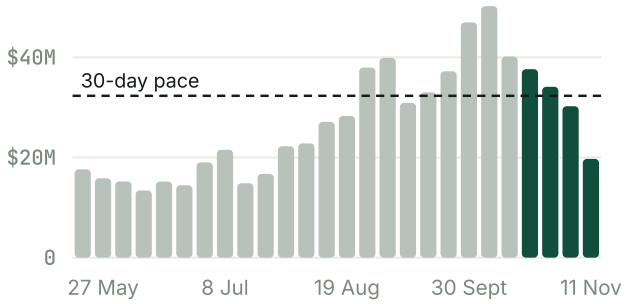

Usage: Swaps pay fees, launches earn

PumpSwap supplies 60% of fees but only 21% of revenue; the launchpad supplies 36% of fees and 71% of revenue. The recent cooling in the fee pace has no identified cause.

Fees per week, 26 weeks

DefiLlama · last 4 weeks highlighted · dashed: 30-day pace

What would make this wrong

Buybacks accelerate.
A step-up in burn spending would absorb unlock supply and undercut the lower tilt.

December unlock absorbed.
If the 11 December cliff passes without fresh insider exchange deposits, the supply concern weakens.

Price reclaims 30-day high.
A close above $0.00513, the 22 October high, would break the downtrend the tilt rests on.

Fee slowdown steepens.
Seven-day annualised fees falling further below the 30-day pace would argue for a directional bearish view, not neutral.

Funding is +0.0100%/8h now and has averaged +0.0051%/8h over seven days. Open interest across exchanges is $57M, down 15.3% over that week. The long/short account ratio is 0.74, with 42% of accounts long. Decision: NO TRADE — the evidence does not favour either end of the range.

Conclusion

The burn is verifiable and the platform is priced well below comparable venues; the scheduled insider supply and the price trend argue the other way. Positioning is not crowded either way, so the 11 December cliff and the pace of buybacks will settle which force wins.

DATA GAPS

No verified points or emissions programme, so total future issuance may be understated. Fee totals disagree: Grip Research's $176.91M against DefiLlama's $138.45M. Circulating supply also conflicts, with Codex Scan showing 354B against CoinGecko's 458.429B.

METHOD

Every number is read by the bot from the named source at the time shown; the AI (deepseek/deepseek-v4.1-flash, deep dive, 25 web results, plus a search on the bot's news leads) writes the words and may only use those numbers — a gate checks every figure in the text before publication. The verdict is the research's stated lean, kept as a direction only when a majority of three independent reads of the same research confirm it at medium or high conviction; a tilt they do not confirm is published as NEUTRAL. The range is the coin's 30-day realised volatility projected 8 weeks. Trade levels follow fixed rules: the entry zone sits at the edge of the 30-day range — or the 7-day range when the 30-day edge is more than two weekly moves away — (no chasing), the stop one weekly 1σ beyond it, targets at 2R and the next band edge; TRADE NOW only when price is in the zone, otherwise WAIT. The idea is scored publicly 7 and 30 calendar days after publication; a WAIT that never reaches its zone is scored "not filled".
